Item # 16 Responses to Call to the Public: Combined from questions posted at February and March Board Meetings:

M. Warbington

- What will be the cost to hook-up and the monthly fee?
Answered by M. Krebs;
 - Residents – there is no hook-up fee due to the Colonia Grant Funding.
 - Businesses – will need to hire a plumbing contractor to install the pipeline from the business wastewater connection to the mainline connection point at the property. The connection from the main pipeline to the property line will need to be installed by TRSD and the Board has not determined the cost for this connection.
- Will there be any meetings with the residents and with the commercial people involved in Phase I?
Answered by M. Harper:
 - All residents and others interested are always invited to attend all Board meetings.
 - There may be another meeting with Raftelis sometime this year.
 - There have been a number of meetings held.

T. Werner

- TRSD County Tax Bill – how are the funds used?
Answered by M. Harper:
 - Funds are used for operations of the District, as reported at meetings and based on the annual budget.
- Sewer Bill – how will we be billed? How much? What funds will be used?
Answered by M. Harper:
 - T. Beckley, our consultant with Raftelis, had mentioned that the amount of the monthly bill is not yet certain.

- Effluent water sales – how will funds be used?

Answered by M. Harper:

- This decision has not yet been made by the Board and will be made at the time funds are received.

- Assessments – how much? How will it be collected? How will funds be used?

Answered by T. Stratton:

- How much – we don't know yet and are still figuring out how much each property will pay.
- How collected – It will be collected by the County on your tax bill.
- How funds used – Funds will be used to pay the payments on the loans.

- Who does Harper Law represent?

Answered by M. Harper:

- Harper Law Offices represent the District Board of Directors.

- Instead of spending $2,300 on a newsletter, publish the letter in the Globe-Miami Times once a month. I'm sure Robert Jacques didn't pay much to have the article published. Then take the $2,300 and get an office – no brainer.

Answered by M. Harper:

- Duly noted. This appears to be a suggestion rather than a question. The USDA requires that we publish weekly construction updates.

- Where are all the boxes of records that were kept at the Central Heights School (County Building)?

Answered by M. Harper:

- The old records are currently held at Harper Law Offices in Payson.

- Are all the meetings, special meeting agendas, and executive sessions records in Payson?

Answered by M. Harper:

- Yes.

- How many members have been involved in a Davis-Bacon job?

Answered by M. Krebs:

- Not sure that I understand the question.
- If Construction funding requires Davis-Bacon (DB) wages, then the contractor that was awarded the work is required to pay the defined wage rates as provided by DB rate schedule for Gila County.
- KE&G is currently the only contractor required to pay DB wages.

H. Farester

- What are the phases and how many phases?

Answered by M. Krebs:

- There are only three (3) phases.

- Why does mandatory hook-up keep coming up?

Answered by M. Harper:

- When a policy is prepared for the Board, it requires the Board to review and look at several versions prior to being finalized and approved.

Answered by M. Harper:

- The Ad Valorem account report is given monthly and this is stated in the minutes.

- Requested that the Board have a meeting with the Pinal Mountain Little League to address safety issues during construction.

Answered by M. Krebs:

- The TRSD contractor has been in communication with the PMLL Board for an understanding of their season and construction on the south edge of the field.

- Suggested that the issue of a possible District Manager needed to be addressed by the Board.

- This is an on-going discussion with the Board.

T. Werner

- Assessment rates are to pay the loan?
